Earth's Evolution.

(Extract from a Coming Volume of Rhime, by W. M. Havenor.)

I feel myself unequaled to the task,
From ages past, to raise the hidden mask;
Or trace the Earth through each successive age,
When first commencing to the present stage.
First formed the sun from particles in space;
Acids and chemicals we in its vapors trace.
With gravity and force condensed, it formed a heat so bright
That gave to other worlds and ours their light.
The Earth, a fragment from the sun was rent;
A liquid mass to make a world intent,
And flung in space a vapory heat.
When force and gravity formed a world complete,
It fell in line; existence then began.
Like other satellites, it circled round the sun,
The attraction less, the heat receding slow,
Condensing waters o'er the world now flow,
Torrents on torrents o'er the world it fell.
If ever it existed—that was Hell.
When mountain waves of water and of flame
Together clashed, the mastery to proclaim,
The weaker element succumbed; it must,
And o'er its fires the water formed a crust.
Foundation formed, formation then began;
Existing forces carried out the plan.
Deposits and sediment, in layers piled,
And life commenced existing in the waters mild.
Forced into generation at a certain heat,
For want of purpose lacked development complete.
And from this life, at first a shapeless mass,
Were formed each order in their class:
Fishes, reptiles, birds, Animal and Man combined.
A similar structure in them all we find;
Progressing always as the world progressed,
Some simple change new features would invest;
The waters teemed with life in this silurian time;
The shells and fossils formed the beds of lime;
Centred at the north we trace the drifting sand.
Elevation caused the three divisions of the land;
The Pacific, Atlantic and Indian Oceans, they divide;
With a different current and a different tide;
And land extended mile on mile,
And pressure forced up every ocean isle,
And in the north a land as fair it lay
As any known to man the present day.
Gigantic ferns and palms and vegetation grew;
So dense the mass light scarcely struggled through,
Life from the ocean crawled upon the earth,
And to the reptilian age gave birth.
They left their beds, all covered o'er with slime,
And different species changed from time to time.
Animals came forth of every living kind,
From the lowest order to the unknown mind;
And Man, and ...gous, crawled along the sand,
And gazed in wonder at the unknown land.
A higher order, Monarch of them all,
Before whose power they all in time must fall.
He wandered round each sight amazed,
His mind was in a state half dazed,
And still progressing in that hour;
The dawning of that unknown power,
He lost the limbs for which he had no use.
Development of muscle others did produce;
And standing upright, perfect Man,
The highest in great creation's plan,
Elevation going on with motion slow;
This tropic land was changed to ice and snow,
And Man and animal left their land of birth,
Populating the three divisons of the earth.
We trace their footsteps in the cave and mound,
In tents of skin and cliffs above the ground.
Their earliest history, though to us unknown,
We trace them rapid from the age of stone,
While feast and fires celebrated some event;
Others we find in signs and monument.

FORMATIONS OF VEINS.

When California flourished first with vine and tree
Nevada was then an inland sea;
Earthquakes and expansion rent the hills in twain
Contraction leaving every fissure vein.
And in the gaseous vapors which arise,
We trace the base of metals and the alkalies.
The sea above down through the fissure pour,
Volcanoes meet it with angry roar.
Lulled for a time the water seeping through
Generated steam again the light renew,
Hurls chemicals and vapors against the surging sea;
Water precipitates and leaves the minerals free.
Sometimes the Pressure forms a faulty vein,
And, like the Bodie, it found again.
Again in kidneys lay the beds of ore
Shows rest awhile, then forming as before,
Or hurled outside with greater strain
On mountain side, it leaves a blanket vein.
The dust and vapors forced at times above the air
Are hung in space congealing there;
The light reflecting where the vapors lie
They bathe the sunsets with a crimson dye,
Condensed by cold above and heat below,
Heavy storms would follow rain or snow.

THE MAN THAT MADE THE FOOTPRINTS AT THE NEVADA STATE PRISON.

When on the cars it was my luck
To run across a Piute buck,
Six feet six inches tall he stood
And carried years no white man could.
His face with storm and time was tanned;
He looked the remnant of some band
That roamed the desert long before
The Carson washed its sandy shore.
And round his foot, from toe to heel,
Was leather strapped as tough as steel.
The hide beneath project ed round
And covered near two feet of ground,
He started off, nor spoke nor smiled,
His strides would set O'Leary wild.
And should he walk along Bell's Lake
A larger track he then would make;
And, stepping down, the foot would slide—
To brace himself he straddled wide,
Or take a longer step he may
To clear some obstacle in his way.
The drifting sands, the tracks they fill;
The Carson swung around the hill,
And damming near the prison below
The rising waters ebb and flow.
The different stratas, small and wide,
They show each season of the tide;
The rising waters in the spring,
The sand and debris down they bring;
And, year by year, each strata grew,
The water slowly seeping through.
The lime from springs and iron alone
Would quickly turn the mass to stone.
How many years have passed since then;
Or since the track were made by men?
To me, at least, it plain appears
No longer than a thousand years.
Our only knowledge is the stone,
The shell and wood and fossil bone.

JOHN A. LOGAN.

OF ILLINOIS.

A BOOMERANG DEFENSE.

The Democratic papers find themselves in an awkward dilemma, and their efforts to get out of it are amusing to the lookers on. They see the workingmen throughout the country stampeding from the standard of Cleveland, and they don't know how to stop it. The reasons for the revolt are well understood, and are embraced generally in his course as Governor of New York, during which incumbency he has distinguished himself as the superserviceable friend of the monopolists, and the enemy of the poor man. This is instanced more especially in several of his vetoes of bills which were passed by the Legislature in the interest of the working classes. That this was their intent and that they were killed by Cleveland are admitted facts. and the Democrats, who have posed for so many years as the friend of the laborer, now find themselves with a platform and candidate opposed to the laboring interests. The situation for a time staggered them, and for want of better arguments they contented themselves with assaults on Blaine. But this was rather thin gruel for men of muscle who were also showing themselves to be men of brains and independence as well, and so they at last determined to take the bull squarely by the horns and insist that Cleveland's vetoes, against which so much complaint was made, were right. Very naturally the papers on the Pacific Coast to lead off were the Sacramento Record-Union, the San Francisco Alta California and the Oakland Times, three notorious monopoly organs. Each and all of them commenced by devoting their best energies to a discussion and defence of the Five-cent Fare veto. In this they had a double purpose, excepting only the Record-Union which claims to desire the election of Blaine. All agreed that any reduction of the rates would have been an interference with vested rights and the impairment of the obligations of a contract. They were, as agents, bound to advocate their view, since it involves a vital question that has for years been asserted, and is still contended for by their principals. Now if we are to believe the former utterances of the balance of the Democratic press on the Pacific slope made before Cleveland's nomination the Democracy repudiates this doctrine and insists upon the right of the people through their Legislatures or other Constitutional authority to regulate the charges on railroads, and yet we find these professedly anti-monopoly papers, either copying the monopoly arguments with approving comments or by silence assenting to their correctness. The Oakland Times says :

The five cent fare bill was an effort by stock jobbers to "bear" the L road stocks, that they might by selling short realize large profits and perhaps cripple the lines. The stock jobbing scheme was pretendedly in the interest of the laboring people, but it was only a pretense as is usually the case with such measures.

This is an evasion of the question, which is simply whether a five cent fare instead of a ten cent fare is in the interest of the poor people. No doubt stock jobbers would make money out of any change that might be made, but there were two classes of jobbers affected, and it is admitted in the above extract that Cleveland took the side of the bulls against the bears. It was only a question as to which side would make the most money. It was clearly proven in the Legislature that the income of the roads was far in excess of the legal guarantee, and that the market value of their watered stocks was enhanced through their enormous profits. The cheap fares during certain hours mornings and evenings, was only a sop thrown out to workingmen. Their families, who might have occasion to travel during the day got no benefit from it.

But the Times exhibits an abnormal development of gall when it speaks of the veto of the twelve hour car-drivers bill. It says:

It was a false pretense measure to limit the hours of car-drivers and conductors in New York City to twelve hours per day. The bill contained no feature that would prevent street car companies making contracts for as many hours work per day as they pleased. It was simply a demagogic sham, gotten up by some amateur communist and professional "friend of the people." It gave labor no protection and in no wise curbed capital. It was subtlely devised to deceive workingmen outside of New York and to furnish venal leaders in that city a chance to organize piece clubs.

Here we have a remarkable confession. For years the Democratic party in nearly all of the States of Union had in its local platforms, and at various times incorporated in its National platforms, a declaration in favor of an eight hour law. The Republican party has incorporated such a law with the national statutes, and the Democracy are entitled to the credit of having legalized the system in some of the States. But we are now informed by this Democratic organ that it was all a "demagogic sham, gotten up by some amateur communist and professional friend of the people." Certainly if it was right to reduce the hours of labor from ten to eight it cannot be wrong or "demagogic" to reduce them from sixteen to twelve. The argument that employers could make contracts for as many hours work per day as they pleased has always been the strongest used against eight hour legislation, and has been combatted by the Democracy until now. The Republican party has, passed, and to this day enforces the eight hour law, in all of the Government works, and any workman in its employ is paid for extra time over the eight hour limit. But Governor Cleveland and the organs of the Democracy say that there is no help for the overworked laborer, and that any attempt to lighten his burdens, and to give him sufficient time for the rest and recreation that is essential to health and happiness is a "demagogic sham." The argument is brutal, and is but a reflection of that sentiment that is born of the piggish greed of the monopolists, which prompt them to look upon all laboring men as human chattels of no further use than to add to the wealth of the rich man's coffers. If Mr. Cleveland and the Democratic party can stand the defense which their organs are making, then we should believe that the party is well nigh indestructible.

AN APPEAL TO VETERANS

From the Republican National Committee comes a circular giving the following among other reasons why the Union Soldiers' and Sailors should be united in their support of the Republican National ticket in the coming Presidential election. It is an address by comrades to comrades, and reads:

As citizens of this Republic, the integrity of which was defended and preserved, in part, by our labors and sacrifices, when it was assailed and imperiled by domestic treason and armed rebellion, we have as vital an interest in the policy of the government and the administration of public affairs, as any class of citizens can have. The questions—"Which party should have control of such administration?" and "Into whose hands shall the highest executive powers and trusts be committed?" can never be to us a matter of indifference, or slight concern. These are the questions submitted to the decision of all the citizens of the Republic in the present Presidential contest. Every surviving soldier and sailor of the Union Army and Navy should answer these questions intelligently and patriotically, and then at the ballot box he should vote, as he shot on the field of battle, for his country's good. Therefore is this appeal made to you. We believe that the surviving soldiers of the army, which aided so effectively to save the Union and defend its government, ought now to give their labors and their votes to promote the election of the Republican national candidates—James G. Blaine and John A. Logan. Our reasons for this conviction are:

First—The Republican party, as a national organization, was the only political power in the country which, during the entire period of the rebellion, was the firm and faithful supporter and ally of the Union soldiers and sailors in the field, and co-operated with them heartily and patriotically in the arduous and glorious successful work of defeating treason and saving the Union. The Democratic party, as a national political organization, pursued the opposite course, and gave aid and comfort to the nation's enemies.

Second—Since the victory for the Union was won, the Republican party has been the unswerving, consistent, generous friend of the Union soldier and sailor, and the advocate of their claims to grateful recognition. The Democratic party, on the contrary, has whenever it has had the opportunity to do so manifested its preference for and bestowed its favors upon those who fought against the Union and its defenders.

Some of the leading Democratic papers are calling upon Cleveland to resign his nomination. Cleveland insists that he is "a true Democrat," which is sufficient answer to any suggestions in the direction of a resignation.

The arrangements are making for a reception by the merchants and manufacturers of Portland to Blaine on Wednesday evening.

THE WORLD'S EXPOSITION.

The World's Exposition that is to be opened at New Orleans, is so far perfected in all its departments that it is now in order to state that it will be the largest World's Fair ever held. The buildings are larger than those erected for the Philadelphia Centennial. The exhibits out-number those of any previous exposition. Each of the States, except possibly one or two, will be represented by an exhibit. Congress has made a loan of $1,000,000 in favor of this Centennial Exposition. The United States Government will make a special exhibit, the largest it has ever attempted, costing hundreds of thousands of dollars and to that end a mammoth building is being erected in the group of exposition buildings. The Mexican Government has appropriated $200,000, and will erect a special building for its unique display. The Central American Republics have been aroused from their long slumber and will be fully represented for the first time among the great nations of the earth. At the exposition one may learn more about the natural resources of those regions than by an ordinary visit to Mexico or Central America. To lovers of music a visit to the Exposition will be highly gratifying as there is a music hall capable of seating 11,000 persons and a stage large enough to hold 600 musicians. Grand concerts will be given during the season. Beside this the fact ought to be known that New Orleans is the only city in the Union that has had an established opera during half a century. Nor is this all. Strangers think themselves well paid by making a visit of pleasure to the quaint old city at any time. During the carnival season tens of thousands of visitors flock to the Crescent city to see the gorgeous pageants prepared annually at an expense to the citizens of from $100,000 to $200,000. This lavish expenditure of money is for the gratification of strangers and home folks, and the displays are absolutely free. The citizens of the Southern metropolis who do such large things, in such a large way, have pledged their word to make their World's Fair the crowning event of the century.

Discussing Their Letters.

All kinds of rumors are current as to the conference between Governor Cleveland and Mr. Hendricks on Saturday. It is asserted that both letters of acceptance were produced, criticised and amended in accordance with mutual suggestions. It is further stated that it was agreed to lay great stress on the labor problem and the rights of foreign-born citizens and to touch gingerly on the tariff issue. Five persons were present at the consultation—Governor Cleveland, Mr. Hendricks, Daniel Manning, Colonel Bannister and Colonel Lamont, the Governor's Private Secretary. Governor Cleveland will not talk about the matter only to say that the meeting was satisfactory to all parties and that Governor Hendricks and himself are in perfect accord as to the political questions of the day. The other persons who were present at the meeting are equally reticent. A Herald correspondent, however, is assured on good authority that Cleveland's letter is not yet in existence even in the form of a draft. The Governor has had his ideas formulated and undoubtedly expressed them in the course of the conversation Saturday but up to Sunday night he had not taken up a pen to express them on paper. He will commence the work of composing at once and the letter will be given to the public before August 9th. After the publication Governor Cleveland will take a vacation for two weeks.

An illustration of the singular fascination of Arctic explorations is in the fact that the survivors of the Greely expedition have signified their willingness to go on another similar cruise. One would think that having been rescued on the very verge of starvation, after witnessing the horrible deaths of nearly three-fourths of their companions, their malady would have been cured. President Arthur was right in terming it an "Arctic craze," for no man in his right mind would voluntarily seek the opportunity for a repetition of such experiences.

The Critic says Senator Dolph of Oregon, will deliver a number of speeches for the Republican ticket. Mr. Dolph is an eloquent and forcible speaker, and his presence on the stump in the Empire State will be productive of great good to the Republicen cause.

The New York Sun seems to be out of favor with the Democracy for the time being. The trouble is that, in its sardonic sarcasm, it is burning them up. Democrats read it now through a smoked glass.

John F. Finerty, the Chicago Congressman, and editor of the Citizen, is one of the prominent Irishmen who support Blaine in preference to Cleveland.

The Irish World supports Blaine this year.

War on the Stock Thieves

Montana advices convey the information that the stock raisers and ranchers of that Territory are carrying on a war of extermination against the horse and cattle thieves. From a letter found in the pocket of a thief recently captured and hanged, full particulars were obtained of the existence of an organized gang of from seventy-five to one hundred thieves, who had long and successfully defied the legal authorities, and had operated between the Missouri and Yellowstone rivers, below Benton. The cowboys are out in force rounding up the thieves. Near old Fort Hawley, a few days since, twenty cowboys gave a gang of thieves battle at Baleman's wood-yard, and succeeded in killing one man named James, his two sons and several others, breaking up that rendezvous, after which the wood-yard was burned. In all, it is estimated that twenty of the gang have been killed; many more have emigrated. It is claimed that the name and history of each thief is known to the cowboys, and that the war will go on until the horse-thieves are scarce in Montana as they are in heaven.

The "Sun's" Eccentric Course.

The Sun continues its eccentric course. It rebukes the Times for its perversion of facts in the Mulligan-letter case, and convicts it of misrepresentation. It says the Sun prefers to conduct its operations against Blaine with some regard to principles of justice and a due appreciation of the value of ascertained facts. The Sun returns again to the charges against Cleveland, and says the charges must be wholly ignored by Cleveland's friends—treated with silent contempt, as Hendricks says—or met and answered in the fullest and most conclusive manner. Which is the proper course to pursue under the circumstances is the most serious question that just at this time confronts the Democratic candidate. The Sun also says : "We confess that all our researches into philosophy and ethics do not elucidate to our mind the subtle principle on which the Evening Post bases a portion of its defense of Grover Cleveland against the recent charges of scandal."

The Chinese Bill.

Please inform me in what year A. A. Sargent first brought the Chinese question into Congress and Blaine spoke in its favor. W. H. H.

The first Chinese restriction bill—that was vetoed by President Hayes—was introduced in 1878.—Call.

The information given in the above is good as far as it goes; but several Anti-Chinese immigration bills had been introduced long before 1878. We have not the date at hand and trust entirely to memory, but Mr. Sargent was an able and earnest supporter of Coghlans "fifteen passenger" bill in 1873, and Senator Wilson of Massachusetts had introduced a measure even before that time. The Chinese restriction bill of 1878 was not introduced by Sargent.

The Balance of Trade.

The report on the foreign commerce of the United States shows a balance of trade in favor of this country for the last fiscal year of $72,798,997 against a balance in our favor of $160,658,488 the preceding year. The total value of exports of merchandise for the fiscal year just closed was $727,898,864 against $833,839,402 the preceding fiscal year, a falling off of $83,325,842. The imports of merchandise amounted to $662,714,563 against $723,180,914 for the preceding year, a falling off of $55,866,351.

Gen. Keifer Barred Out.

The largest vote known to be polled at a Clark county primary election decided Saturday whether Captain Bushnell or General Keifer should have the solid delegation to the Eighth Congressional Convention, which meets here Tuesday next. Bushnell carried the city by 860 votes and the county by 500. This bars Keifer out of the race.

PRESIDENTIAL DECENT.—Of the twenty-one Presidents of the United States, twelve were of English decent—Washington, John Adams, Madison, Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Harrison, Tyler, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce, Lincoln and Garfield. Five were of Scotch-Irish lineage—Jackson, Polk, Buchanan, Johnson and Arthur; two were of Scotch—Grant and Hayes; one of Welsh descent—Jefferson; and one of Dutch—Martin Van Buren.

CLEVELAND'S KIN.—Gov. Cleveland has a brother who is a Presbyterian minister near Utica. He has five sisters. One of them lives on the old homestead at Holland Patent, is unmarried, and is a strong advocate of woman's rights. Another is the wife of an architect at Toledo, Ohio, and a third is the wife of missionary in India.

UNION PACIFIC LAND SALES.—The Union Pacific Railroad has sold during the past six months 2,268,672 acres of land against 447,216 acres in the corresponding part of 1883. The sum realized was $5,099,957, or about $2 25 per acre. The company still has 15,000,000 acres to sell, much of which is desirable for settlement.

Colonel Moore Returned.

The Elko Independent says :

Col. J. B. Moore, of Ruby, who went as a delegate to the Democratic Convention at Chicago, arrived here from the East by the train this morning. Ever since the Convention, the Colonel has been rambling about among the prominent cities and favorite resorts east of the Rockies, and returns home in excellent health and spirits. During his peregrinations in New York, he dropped in at the West Point Military Academy where he was courteously received, and had the pleasure of meeting Lieutenant O. J. Brown, formerly of Fort Halleck, whose memory is cherished by all his old friends and acquaintances in this part of the country. The Col. also met at the Academy, George Stockle, of Cherry Creek, the successful competitor for the cadetship, from this Congressional District, and was pleased to learn from the officers that Geo. is conducting himself in a most exemplary manner, and that his success in the final examination which takes place now very shortly, is almost assured.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR'S PLANS.—President Arthur, at the expiration of his term, will go back to New York and resume his place in his former law firm, but act as consulting counsel. Mr. Arthur is worth about $250,000, a fortune that has come to him in a legitimate way, and he never speculates.

AFTER THE HONEYMOON.—She: "Don't forget to order the flour." He: "No; where's my hat? Oh, here it is; bye, bye." "Wait a moment, George; haven't you forgotten something?" "I guess not." "You forgot to kiss me." "Oh no, I kissed you." "When?" "Last week."—Philadelphia Call.

De La Matyr, Judge E. V. Spencer and others. The evening was pleasantly passed in the parlors of the hotel with music, song and mirth provoking speeches. All in all it was one of the most brilliant weddings that has taken place in Reno in many a day. The guests took their departure at a late hour, wishing long life and continued happiness to the newly wedded couple.

Annapolis Cadetship.

Nevada is entitled to only one cadetship in the Naval Academy at Annapolis. The following letter will give inquirers information as to the length of the cadetship term:

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, July 22, 1884.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st instant.

There will not be a vacancy for the appointment of a naval cadet from Nevada until 1886, when Cadet John D. McDonald should finally graduate. He has completed the academic course and is now performing two years' duty at sea prior to final graduation, the course being six years. Very respectfully,

ED. T. NICHOLS,
Acting Secretary of the Navy.

Hon. Geo. W. Cassidy, House of Representatives.

A Tough Story.

Sheriff Emmitt, who has always been considered one of the most truthful men in the country, tells a rather incredulous story of his recent hunting experience in Sierra Valley. He states for a fact that he with three other friends at a small lagoon not far from Loyalton, killed 130 ducks, 34 snipe and 63 curlews at one shot. From the way the story was told it was evident that he desired to convey the impression that his companions were armed with snipe guns, and therefore had very little to do with the work, though two of them claimed to be crack shots from Downieville.

Remove Your Rubbish.

This exceedingly dry warm weather makes it important that every precaution be taken to prevent fires. No sort of combustible rubbish should be allowed to collect in back yards and alleys. It is the duty of every householder to see that rubbish about his premises is carted off to some safe place and burned. A neglect of this duty not only endangers his own household but that of his neighbors' as well.

$500 Reward.

The Commissioners yesterday decided to offer a reward of $500 for the arrest and return to the custody of the Sheriff of Washoe county, of John Hart, the alleged murderer of Charles Maltby. The Clerk was also directed to transmit a certified copy of the report of the Coroner's jury to the State authorities with a request that the State offer a similar reward.

Postponed.

The lawn social which was to have taken place at Mrs. Chapin's residence last evening was postponed on account of the weather until to-night, at which time, weather permitting, the social will take place.

The Senator.

The Carson correspondent of the Lyon County Times says:

Senator Jones visited his personal and political friends here some days ago, and was most heartily welcomed. The magnetism about that man is irresistible and none can converse with him fifteen minutes without becoming his friend. His broad views and vast fund of information always attract men to him wherever he may be; and it is no surprise to me that he is one of the most popular members of the United States Senate, and the sought-for companion of this nation's great man. His modesty and generosity are other virtues which command for him the admiration of all We can justly feel proud of him and that he will be returned to the post he has so honorably filled is not doubted by the most confident Democrat.

Johnny McIntosh and wife went to Truckee by last evening's train. Before leaving he invited a few friends to dine with him at the Depot Hotel. Notwithstanding the trouble he created in the minds of young and old by not publishing his marriage for so long, numerous friends were at the depot to bid the hrppy couple good-bye and God speed.

PLATFORM OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Adopted by the National Republican Convention at Chicago.

The Republicans of the United States, in national convention assembled, renew their allegiance to the principles upon which they have triumphed in six successive Presidential elections and congratulate the American people on the attainment of so many results in legislation and administration, by which the Republican party has, after saving the Union, done so much to render its institutions just, equal and beneficent, the safeguard of liberty and the embodiment of the best thought and highest purposes of our citizens. The Republican party has gained its strength by a quick and faithful response to the demands of the people for freedom and equality of all men for a united nation, assuring the rights of all citizens, for the elevation of labor, for an honest currency, for purity in legislation and for integrity and accountability in all the departments of the Government, and it accepts anew the duty of leading in the work of progress and reform.

We lament the death of President Garfield, whose sound statesmanship, long conspicuous in Congress, gave promise of a strong and successful administration, a promise fully realized during the short period of his office as President of the United States. His distinguished success in war and peace has endeared him to the hearts of the American people. In the administration of President Arthur we recognize a wise, conservative and patriotic policy, under which the country has been blessed with remarkable prosperity. We believe his eminent services are entitled to and will receive the hearty approval of every citizen.

It is the first duty of a good Government to protect the rights and promote the interests of its own people. The largest diversity of industry is most productive of general prosperity and the comfort and independence of the people, the taxpayers, without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country.

We recognize the importance of sheep husbandry in the United States, the serious depression which it is now experiencing, and the danger threatening its future prosperity, and we therefore respect the demands of the representatives of this important agricultural interest for the readjustment of the duty upon foreign wool, in order that such industry shall have full and adequate protection. We therefore demand that the imposition of duties on foreign imports shall be made not for revenue only, but that in raising the requisite revenue for the Government such duties shall be so levied as to afford security to our diversified industries and protection to the rights and wages of the laborer, to the end that active and intelligent labor, as well as capital, may have its just reward, and the laboring man his full share in the national prosperity.

Against the so-called economic system of the Democratic party, which would degrade our labor to the foreign standard, we enter our earnest protest. The Democratic party has failed completely to relieve the people of the burden of unnecessary taxation by a wise reduction of the surplus. The Republican party pledges itself to correct the irregularities of the tariff and reduce the surplus, not by the vicious and indiscriminate process of horizontal reduction, but by such methods as will relieve the taxpayer without injuring the laborer or the great productive interests of the country. The Republican party favors a policy which shall keep us from entangling alliances with foreign nations and which gives us the right to expect that foreign nations shall refrain from meddling in American affairs. The policy which seeks peace can trade with all Powers, but especially with those of the Western Hemisphere.

We demand the restoration of our navy to its old-time strength and efficiency, that it may in any sea protect the rights of American citizens and the interests of American commerce, and we call upon Congress to remove the burdens under which American shipping has been depressed, so that it may again be true that we have a commerce.

It is the duty of Congress to enact such laws as shall promptly and effectually suppress the system of polygamy within our Territories, and divorce the political from the ecclesiastical power of the so-called Mormon Church, and that the laws so enacted should be rigidly enforced by the civil authorities, if possible, and by the military, if need be.

The people of the United States, in their organized capacity, constitute a nation and not a mere confederacy of States. The National Government is supreme within the sphere of its national duty, but the States have reserved rights which should be faithfully maintained.

We have always recommended the best money known to the civilized world, and we urge that efforts should be made to unite all the commercial nations in the establishment of an international standard, which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage.

The regulations of commerce with foreign nations and between the States is one of the most important prerogatives of the general Government, and the Republican party distinctly announces its purpose to support such legislation as will fully and efficiently carry out the constitutional power of Congress over interstate commerce.

The principle of the public regulation of railroad corporations is a wise and salutary one for the protection of all classes of the people, and we favor legislation that shall prevent unjust discrimination and excessive charges for transportation, and that shall secure to the people and the railways alike the fair and equal protection of the laws.

We favor the establishment of a national bureau of labor, the enforcement of the eight-hour law, and a wise and judicious system of general education by adequate appropriations from the national revenue where the same is needed.

We believe that everywhere the protection accorded to citizens of American birth must be secured to citizens by American adoption, and we favor the settlement of national differences by international arbitration

The Republican party, having its birth in a hatred of slave labor and a desire that all men may be truly free and equal, is unalterably opposed to placing our workingmen in competition with any form of servile labor, whether at home or abroad. In this spirit we denounce the importation of contract labor, whether from Europe or Asia, as an offense against the spirit of American institutions, and we pledge ourselves to sustain the present law restricting Chinese immigration and to provide such further legislation as is necessary to carry out its purposes.

The reform of the civil service auspiciously begun under Republican administration should be completed by the further extension of the reform system already established by law to all grades of the service to which it is applicable. The spirit and purpose of the reform should be observed in all executive appointments and all laws at variance with the object of existing reform legislation should be repealed, to the end that the dangers to free institutions which lurk in the power of official patronage may be wisely and effectively avoided.

The public lands are a heritage of the people of the United States and should be reserved, as far as possible, for small holdings by actual settlers. We are opposed to the acquisition of large tracts of these lands by corporations or individuals, especially where such holdings are in the hands of non-resident aliens, and we will endeavor to obtain such legislation as will tend to correct this evil. We demand of Congress the speedy forfeiture of all land grants which have lapsed by reason of non-compliance with the acts of incorporation, in all cases where there has been no attempt in good faith to perform the conditions of such grants.

The perpetuity of our institutions rests upon the maintaining of a free ballot, honest count and correct returns, We denounce the fraud and violence practiced by the Democratic party in the Southern States, by which the will of the voter is defeated, as dangerous to the preservation of our free institutions, and we solemnly arraign the Democratic party as being the guilty recipient of the fruits of such fraud and violence. We extend to the Republicans of the South, regardless of their former party affiliations, our cordial sympathy, and pledge to them our most earnest efforts to promote the passage of such legislation as will secure to every citizen of whatever race and color the full and complete recognition, possession and exercise of his civil and political rights.

Appointments by the President to offices in the Territories should be made from bona fide citizens and residents of the Territories wherein they are to serve.

The grateful thanks of the American people are due to the Union soldiers and sailors of the late war, and the Republican party stands pledged to provide suitable pension for all who were disabled and for the widows and orphans of those who died in the war. The Republican party also pledges itself to the repeal of the limitation contained in the Arrears of Pensions Act of 1879, so that all invalid soldiers shall share alike and their pensions begin within the date of disability or discharge and not with the date of the application.
